1. AIMS & BACKGROUND

The Hong Kong Institute of Architects [HKIA] ("the Organizer") shall organize the Project with The Hong Kong Institute of Planners ("HKIP") and Hong Kong Designers Association ("HKDA"). By exhibiting through the Project, the Organizer aims to

- present a biannual exhibition for the enrichment of urban environment and cultural life
- arouse wider public interest in issues on art, design, architecture and urban planning of Hong Kong
- create a platform for critical and intellectual dialogues for professionals in Hong Kong, China and worldwide
- facilitate channels for cultural exchange between Hong Kong and Shenzhen, as well as other cities in China and Asia
- nurture local and young professionals for the development of Hong Kong’s creative industry and local brands
- promote creativity amongst Hong Kong students and youth through participation
- create favorable environment for the research and making of visionary art and architectural works in an exhibition context

In 2005, the Government of Shenzhen organized the 1st Shenzhen Biennale of Urbanism & Architecture with its aim to promote the city as the Mainland’s foremost city of creativity. The Biennale was curated by Chang Yung-ho and had attracted over 80 participating exhibitors from the Mainland and the region as well as international media coverage and symposia. From the beginning, the Shenzhen Municipal Planning Bureau expressed a strong wish to collaborate with Hong Kong in future events, so as to generate a synergy between two most vibrant urban centers in the region. In December 2006, an initiative to co-organize future Biennales was formed between The Hong Kong Institute of Architect and the Shenzhen Panning Bureau.

The 2007 Hong Kong & Shenzhen Bi-City Biennale of Urbanism\Architecture held in the historical compound of the Central Police Station in Hong Kong was of historical importance. It was not only the first bi-city biennale the two cities worked together, most importantly, it was the first architecture, planning and design exposition of international standard hosted in Hong Kong. Led by Wang Weijen, the Hong Kong curatorial team took “City Re-fabricating” as the theme, to have a dialogue with “City of Expiration and Regeneration”, the theme of the Shenzhen counterpart exhibition curated by Ma Qingyun. Both exhibitions had mobilized international talents and had attracted visitors from cities in the region, generated dialogues and forums over issues on design, architecture and city.

Subsequently, the 2009 Hong Kong & Shenzhen Bi-City Biennale of Urbanism\Architecture, held in the West Kowloon Waterfront Promenade led by Marisa Yiu with the theme “City Mobilization: Bring Your Own Biennales”, aimed to investigate the possibility of bottom-up mobilization and the organization of social life.

The third 2011-12 edition was held in the Kowloon Park, with satellite venues in Wanchai Visual Archive and Central Oasis in Central. The Curatorial Team led by Gene King and Anderson Lee themed the exhibition as “Tri-ciprocal Cities: The Time, The Place, The People”, which addresses the tangible as well as the intangible aspects of the city and its architecture, global trends as well as specificity of the time, the place, and the people.

Based on mutual agreement between Hong Kong and Shenzhen Organizers, the Project has been officially renamed as Urbanism\Architecture Bi-City Biennale • Hong Kong (“BBUA*HK”). The 2013 edition aims to draw comparable audienceship and media coverage to the last Biennales, and mark even closer co-curatorship and co-operation between Shenzhen and Hong Kong.

The Project is overseen by the UABB•HK2013 Steering Committee, formed by members of HKIA, HKIP, HKDA and Shenzhen Biennale of Urbanism\Architecture Organizer Committee (Shenzhen counterparts), which is composed of:-
