IDEA COMPETITION

DESIGN BRIEF

1.0 BACKGROUND

In 2018, a great Hong Kong-born architect passed away. Dubbed the "father of public housing", Mr Michael Wright designed the first estates in Sham Shui Po with private bathrooms and kitchens and altered the concept and basic facilities in public housing. He believed it was a matter of "human dignity" for people to be able to wash in private. His experience as soldier, civil servant and president of the Hong Kong Institute of Architects, deeply affected his ideology and determination in improving the living conditions of Hongkongers. How should we honour and memorize architects with such significant contribution to Hong Kong and the typology of architecture?

2.0 THEME

What happens when a renowned architect perish? How to express our gratitude? How should we honour and remember a devoted contributor in an architectural perspective? Is it possible to interact and understand Mr Wright in different angles?

Participants have to submit Design Proposal for a "Michael Wright Memorial", which aim to honour and memorize Mr Wright in a respective way and showcase his contribution to the general public.
